

New York Association for the Education of Young Children

Reporter Article Submission Form

We are requesting your original article submissions for the NYAEYC newsletter, the Reporter! We are always accepting new articles to feature in both our print and electronic issues. Please find a list of early childhood education topics below, but if you have other suggestions or an article surrounding a topic not listed, please submit it! We welcome new ideas and perspectives. Please also note that while we cannot use every article submitted in each issue, we do archive every submission so that it may be used in a future edition. You will be notified via email when your article will be featured in an upcoming newsletter.

Article Topics: Play, Family Engagement, Transitioning, STEM, Developmentally Appropriate Practices, Social-Emotional Development, Technology in Early Education, English Language Learner, Music and Movement in the Curriculum, Children’s Healthy Development/Nutrition, Common Core, and Early Interventions

Complete this form, and please follow the submission directions below.

Article Guidelines

- Please limit your article to no more than 850 words. If the article is longer, we will certainly review it and let you know if it needs to be shortened or used as-is.
- Please submit the article to reporter@nyaeyc.org in a Word document. (Each article is reviewed and edited by our Marketing Chairperson as well as the NYAEYC staff. Unless we feel the content needs to be redirected, edits are minor and a majority are grammar- and/or punctuation-related.)
- Along with your article, please submit a short personal bio/blurb. Please limit this to no more than 100 words. Tell us about your early childhood background, your current employment, number of years in the field, and anything else you would like to share with your fellow NYAEYC members.

Thank you for submitting your article for the Reporter! You will receive confirmation notification that your article was received. Should you have any questions, please direct them to Aimee Pryba at reporter@nyaeyc.org.
