Innovation & Provocation:

Making Learning Visible Via The Reggio Emilia Approach

Presented by Kathy Burton, BA, Jeanne Loysen Ed.D.,
& Mary Ann Schifitto, MS

Exploring the “Hundred Languages”, we will experience innovative ways to represent projects using the actions, play, investigations, theories, and knowledge-building process of the children as well as their linguistic, logical, and imaginative discoveries. With this process we will explore how to make learning visible through the Reggio Emilia Approach.

Participants will be provided various resources, websites, and places to discover more about the Reggio Approach and how to implement it into their classroom.

Thursday
