westchesteraeyc@gmail.com

WAEYC Mission Statement:

The Westchester Association for the Education of Young Children is a professional organization which advocates for children birth through eight years. It educates, guides policy, and promotes quality early childhood programs.

Spring Training Workshops 2015

WAEYC is pleased to present its 2015 Spring Workshop series!

The Spring Workshops are a terrific opportunity for directors, staff, specialists and parents to continue their education in the early childhood field. These quality programs are designed to bring new concepts and techniques to staff, to enhance the classroom experience for the children we serve, and to provide everyone with training hours and networking opportunities. We invite you to share the workshops with the parents at your program. There are many that would appeal to them also!

Afternoon and Evening Workshops

Open to

Directors, Teachers, Specialists, Staff and Parents

A Special Thank You!

WAEYC would also like to thank Sara Arnon for organizing over 30 Spring Workshops on different days, times and locations throughout the county.
Thanks Sara!

President's Message:

Dear Fellow Westchester AEYC members and Early Childhood Professionals:

As many of us paused for the holidays, we might have had some time to consider the many blessings we have in our profession as well as the issues that require our creative problem solving day to day! Early childhood professionals nurture and care for everyone: children birth –eight years, as well as their families. We support early education in so many ways: provide for the emotional well-being and nutritional needs of children; encourage creativity; provide and coordinate specialized services; build the bridge between the medical profession and special education needs; and promote an understanding of human development for families. In all that we do, we serve as advocates for the needs of all young children and their families.

On their website, The National Education Association notes the power of early educational experiences. Research shows that providing a high quality education for children before they turn five yields significant long-term benefits. One well-known study, the HighScope Perry Preschool Study, found that individuals who were enrolled in a quality preschool program ultimately earned up to $2,000 more per month than those who were not. Young people who were in preschool programs are more likely to graduate from high school, to own homes, and have longer marriages. Other studies, like The Abecedarian Project, show similar results. Children in quality preschool programs are less likely to repeat grades, need special education, or get into future trouble with the law.

As a kindergarten teacher, I recognize the impact I have on the families in my district. The early childhood years are the most powerful years for learning, growth and development in the life of a child and kindergarten holds a place in the education of a student as one of the foundations for the attitudes about learning that children and families will carry with them throughout their years of schooling and beyond.

Therefore, think of yourself as an important provider in the scheme of things, because you are!! This issue of our Westchester AEYC details our Spring 2015 Workshop series. Take note of what is being offered and provide yourself with professional development that is on target, current, and informational so that you can improve upon your skills as an early childhood professional. I hope you took a few days away from your day-to-day professional responsibilities to relax, catch up with old friends, and curl up on the couch with a good book. Recharging your battery with a long walk or a trip to the gym (I needed to do that!), was a refreshing break. I hope you took time for you!

May the winter be kind to all of us with a couple of snow days thrown in so we can get caught up with the laundry, and here's to health and happiness for all in 2015!

Deborah Mumford, EdD

WESTCHESTER AEYC SPRING WORKSHOPS 2015

We are pleased to present this series of training opportunities for directors, staff, specialists, and parents to continue their education in early childhood. These quality workshops are designed to bring new concepts, techniques, and ideas to professionals working with young children in order to enhance the classroom experience. These workshops also provide you with the training hours and networking opportunities so necessary to your work. Please share this brochure with colleagues, friends, and parents at your program and encourage them to attend also.

If your center is a host site, your Director received a voucher for free attendance to any workshop. Please speak to your director about using this voucher.

Please remember to fill out an evaluation form at the end of each workshop so that we know how well received each presentation was for you. And, we encourage you to join WAEYC, come to our events, and also give us any suggestions of interest areas that you would like our affiliate to focus on for you. Members call the shots in any professional organization---let your voice be heard.

Sara Arnon, Chairperson, WAEYC Spring Workshops 2015

11. Thursday, March 19 at 4 – 6 PM

Supporting Students with Autism Spectrum Disorders...
And the Parents Who Come With Them

As increasing numbers of students on the autism spectrum are being identified and mainstreamed, early childhood educators are being stretched in “special” directions. This engaging session will provide practical information and strategies to help general educators reach these challenging students---and their parents. We will explore ways to maximize adjustment and learning, and to broach difficult topics with parents. Ultimately our goal is to facilitate an environment of effective, open collaboration around the children we share.

Presenter: Barbara Boronson OCFS: 1,3,4,5
Site: St. John’s Nursery School 914-833-2870
4 Fountain Square
Larchmont, 10538

12. Monday, March 23

at 4 – 6 PM

Maintaining a Good Working Relationship---Director and Staff

How do you get your Director to hear your concerns? How do you make staff understand the reason for policies? Come and learn how to communicate in a productive manner. Questions will be asked and answered. Sometimes it's hard to understand why certain rules (policies) need to be in place, but as an organization grows, becomes licensed and has mandated rules to follow, some things just have to be done by everyone. Come watch and listen as this experienced team helps us learn to be heard without anger.

Presenters: Linda Teubl & Barbara Klein OCFS: 3, 4, 5
Site: Huguenot Nursery School 914-738- 6346

Young children often exhibit challenging behaviors. 7 principles are offered as suggestions to manage such behaviors. Specific scenarios are presented and discussed in order to gain maximum understanding of each principle. Time will be allotted for Q & A and discussion of personal experiences.

Presenter: Vicki L Messina OCFS: 1,3, 4
Site: Alcott School 914-472-4404
Crane Road
Scarsdale, 10583

14. Tuesday, March 24

at 4 – 6 PM

Develop Your Own Music Program

We will discuss how we developed our own in-staff music program for 3's and 4's which met our two goals of introducing staff and children to different musical techniques to use in their classrooms and delivering a varied music education for the children. We will share what we tried, what worked, what didn't and how to start or ramp up your own music program.

Presenters: Lois Benevento & Linda Jo Platt OCFS: 1, 3, 5
Site: Community Nursery School 914-693-9072
343 Broadway
Dobbs Ferry, 10522

15. Wednesday, March 25

at 4 – 6 PM

Music, Dance, Fingerplays with Delores

There's always something new to learn with Delores. A handout of songs, dances, and finger plays will be used in a participatory program in order to bring new material to the teacher's classrooms. It's definitely a good idea to bring a recording device to this workshop.

Presenter: Delores JiJi OCFS: 1, 3

Welcoming Nature into Your Classroom

In this “plugged in” era, nature play for children is more important than ever. While getting children outside and into green spaces is ideal, we can also bring nature into the classroom through indoor games and creative use of specimens from the natural world. This session will cover both: we’ll take a short nature walk on the Sheldrake Conservancy property to demonstrate ways to help children engage with nature in the outdoors, whether your classroom is near a park or in an urban setting. We’ll also spend time indoors with hands-on activities, role plays and other tips for stimulating nature play in the classroom.

Presenter: Jenny Geer, Director Community Programs OCFS:1, 2, 3, 4

The Week of the Young Child (WOYC) April 12 - 18, 2015 Celebrating our Youngest Learners

The purpose of the Week of the Young Child is to focus public attention on the needs of young children and their families and to recognize the early childhood programs and services that meet those needs. It is a time for programs to spread the word about early childhood education. We are challenging you to come up with ways to reach the public and policy makers and increase their knowledge. Let the community know we are not BABYSITTERS. Let them know we EDUCATE. Let them know PLAY IS LEARNING.

WAEYC wants to know your stories. Send us photos, videos or copies of letters, showing how you spread the word. Some suggestions:

- Invite your parents, local officials, and State Senators to visit your facility and notice the nurturing and inviting environment. Give them information on what ECE truly means and how children can learn through play.
- Do more than just 'preach to the choir'. Go beyond that. Start the discussion at the dinner table, on the grocery line, and see where that conversation leads
- Ideas to use in your centers and share with your families can be found on the NAEYC website by following this link www.naeyc.org/woyc. This is a great opportunity to raise public awareness and support for the role quality early childhood education plays in our communities!
- NAEYC first established the Week of the Young Child in 1971, recognizing that the early childhood years (birth through age 8) lay the foundation for children's success in school and later life. Is your center doing anything special for the WOYC? Let us know and we can help spread the word.

Scholarship Opportunities

Linda Lattimer Professional Tuition Scholarship

Funded by the Westchester Association for the Education of Young Children

The Linda Lattimer Professional Tuition Scholarship was established to honor the memory of Linda Fraser Lattimer who was the founding director of the Purchase College Children's Center. The purpose of the award is to make professional education in the field of early childhood education more readily available to WAEYC members currently working in the field.

Beth Anne Farkas Special Education Scholarship

Funded by the Westchester Association for the Education of Young Children

The Beth Anne Farkas Special Education Scholarship was established to honor the memory of Beth Anne Farkas, the former executive director of the Alcott School in Scarsdale. The purpose of this award is to assist WAEYC members who have previously been employed in the field of Early Childhood Education and are currently enrolled as either full time undergraduate or graduate students pursuing a degree in the field of Early Childhood Special Education, or WAEYC members currently employed in the field of Early Childhood Education, enrolled as part-time undergraduate or graduate students in the field of Early Childhood Special Education.

For further details on either scholarship, please go to www.westchesteraeyc.com to the Scholarship tab to download these applications. The deadline for submitting the applications is April 1, 2015. Scholarships will be awarded at our Annual Meeting on May 11, 2015.

Send the complete set of documents by April 1, 2014 to: Cheryl Smith, Scholarship Chairperson at St James the Less Nursery School, 10 Church Lane, Scarsdale, NY 10583.

Public Policy Update December 2014

Katharine Page, Public Policy Chair

Senate passes the $1.1 trillion spending bill with a vote of 56 to 40, sending it to President Obama's desk for his signature. The bill will fund most of the government (with the exception of the Department of Homeland Security) through next September, averting a government shutdown.

The bill includes:

- A $75 million increase for the Child Care and Development Block Grant (CCDBG), totaling to $2.4 billion
- Funding for Head Start and Early Head Start – Child Care Partnership Grants remained constant, at $8.6 billion
- Funding for the Preschool Development Grants remained constant, at $250 million
- Funding for the School Improvement Grant program remained constant, at $506 million.

Invest in US: Challenging Everyone to Commit to Early Learning

On December 10th President Obama held the White House Summit on Early Education.

Invest in US is a challenge to the following people to help expand high-quality early learning programs for all young children.

- Public and private partners
- Business leaders
- Philanthropists
- Advocates
- Elected officials
- Each and every one of us

Many corporate and philanthropic leaders have committed to the challenge, making over $330 million in new commitments.

Together with federal awards, the current total investment in the education and development for our nation's youngest learners is over $1 billion.

ECE Consensus Letter: Scholars and Researchers Agree on the Importance of Quality Early Learning

- An expansive list of notable researchers issued an Early Childhood Education Consensus Letter (<http://nieer.org/publications/ece-consensus-letter-researchers>) a useful advocacy tool.
- This letter was issued to policymakers, confirming agreement that research shows that high-quality early childhood education produces better education, health, economic, and social outcomes for children, families, and the nation as a whole.
- Among the signatories of the ECE Consensus Letter for Researchers is Kyle Snow, NAEYC's Senior Scholar and Director, Center for Applied Research.

New Resources Available on the Child Care Development Fund

The Office of Child Care has created a resource page for the Child Care Development Fund (CCDF) under the recent Child Care and Development Block Grant (CCDBG) Reauthorization. CCDF is comprised of federal funding for child care under both CCDBG and the Social Security Act, providing subsidies to families in addition to resources to raise the quality of care. The 2014 reauthorization of CCDBG renews authority for CCDF through FY 2020.

In a continuing effort to go GREEN, we would like to email the WAEYC newsletter to all the centers in Westchester County instead of mailing them. If you know the email address for your center, please send it to westchesteraeyc@gmail.com.

Also please make sure that your email address is correct on your membership information on the NAEYC website. WAEYC has been sending out valuable alerts using Constant Contact regarding training opportunities, job postings, public policy alerts and other information that is date sensitive. Please make sure that westchesteraeyc@gmail.com is not sent to your spam on your email. If you have not been receiving these alerts for the past two years, your membership may have expired or your email address is incorrect. Please email westchesteraeyc@gmail.com so we can correct our list. If you did not put an email address in the NAEYC online application, please let us know that as well, so that you can continue to receive these valuable alerts. An alert was sent out in early January regarding some Early Childhood fellowship opportunities. Check your spam if you did not receive it. About 100 of the 400 emails were opened, so we know we have a lot of members who are not getting our emails.

FAQs About Nursery Schools and OCFS Licensing

Most often asked questions

There is often some confusion about the difference between a “Nursery School” and a “Child Care Center.” Here are the most often asked questions and the answers that the Child Care Council receives.

What is a “child day care center?”

“Child day care center means a program or facility which is not a residence in which child day care is provided on a regular basis to more than six children for more than three hours per day per child for compensation or otherwise, except those programs providing care as a school-age child care program as defined in this Section.” (OCFS regulations) It is about how many hours any one child is in the program.

What if my program is a “nursery school?”

“The name, description or form of the entity which operates a child day care center does not affect its status as a child day care center.” (OCFS regulations) If your program operates for more than 3 hours a day, under New York State law, it must be licensed by OCFS (Office for Children and Family Services).

If my program has been in operation for years, why does it need to get licensed?

The simple answer is that it is the law. However, it is important to see licensing regulations as a framework for keeping children healthy and safe in a well-rounded program. There are procedures for emergencies and administration of medicine. Staff receive background checks. They protect children, families, the program, and the staff.

Why do we need to be licensed if we offer a developmentally appropriate program not a day care program?

It is wonderful that you do. However, “day care” does not mean a substandard program. It is not babysitting. All children should have access to a high quality program that supports their development. “Day care” simply refers to a program that offers a day of care for working families. If your program is licensed by OCFS, you will not need to make any changes in your program’s philosophy or design as long as it is a developmentally appropriate program that meets licensing guidelines.

What is our program does not want to open early in the morning and close late in the afternoon?

Each licensed program determines its own hours. Being licensed allows a program to have a program of more than 3 hours if they choose to do so and to meet the needs of their families.

Would our program have to take “nursery school” out of our name?

No, not at all. Each program determines its own name.

Our teachers have master’s degrees in early childhood and know what they are doing, why should our program need to be licensed?

It is commendable that you have a highly qualified staff. However, all programs can benefit from following the same health, safety, and research based program standards. In addition, it is the law in New York if your program operates for more than 3 hours. Many child care centers also employ teachers with advanced degrees.

What happens if our program chooses to become licensed? How much extra work will it be for us?

There is a process that starts with an orientation and then an application. There will be inspections to determine if the space meets the regulations. There will be more paperwork documenting medical records, training, attendance, etc. It might seem daunting at first but will soon become a part of how you operate. The Child Care Council can help a program through each step.

What happens if our program is caught operating for more than 3 hours?

The program immediately will not be allowed to operate for more than 3 hours a day. If the program chooses to become licensed, it will be able to extend past 3 hours once it is licensed.

Where can a program go to ask about becoming a licensed program or to ask questions?

You can contact the Spring Valley Regional Office of OCFS at (845) 708-2400, go to the OCFS website - <http://ocfs.ny.gov/main/childcare/becomeaprovider.asp>, or call Idie Benjamin at the Child Care Council of Westchester at 914-761-3456 ext. 108 or jdieb@cccwny.org.
